All elections PDF Varied Topics Book In today's recording we will see a guide to learn how to play guitar in an orderly and progressive way. These tips for learning the guitar can be done by item or according to your needs. Let's see the steps! Steps in order to learn to play guitar: 1. Know the position of the guitar The first point, if you want to learn to play the guitar, is to know how to hold the guitar. Watch this video to get started with the first step: 2. Do you know the name of the lines? Secondly, if you want to know how to play guitar you should know the strings in the air. You should know that the guitar has 6 strings, that they are considered bottom-up, and that they are MI-SI-SOL-RE-LA-MI. 3. Setting up guitar Know how to customize your guitar is also important when it comes to learning the guitar. You can tune in by ear, or with a tweezer tuner (they are very thin). If you are more modern, with your smartphone you can download an app like GuitarTuna. Here in this video I explain: 4. Learn to read tablatures and then score As we learn some notes, we may need to learn how to read notes, something very useful that in the long run will help you in your learning. This is not strictly necessary, because you can learn to play the guitar also by reading the tabula, but with the score the musical notes are read much faster (tablature will take you a few minutes to understand it). Learn how to read tablature here Learn to read the notes here 5. Learn to click before learning the chords, I recommend playing a few taps on the guitar. There are three main methods when we tap, one of them is to play by pulling our fingers, the other and the other play guitar with a pick. If you don't know what it is to click, I recommend you watch this video: 6. Learn to play guitar with some light melodies At the moment we can go looking for songs that match our level. We'll see that there are a lot of simple songs that you know and that you can take advantage to learn how to play guitar. This will help you progress quickly. Especially if you know them. 7. Take one of our courses (optional) Another option that I recommend to know how to play guitar to have a guide or learn with a guitar course for beginners. It's true that there's a lot of free stuff on the internet, but if you like the order and that you're guided step by step is a better safe option. You can also choose one of these books, which I recommend. 8. Know your mistakes while learning guitar When you are already in the process of playing different tunes with taps, you will notice that there are some that go out better than others. AND THE EYE! as we will still be on our way to learning to play guitar and above all being self-taught we will have a lot of mistakes at first, so we need to be our own teachers and check what mistakes we make in the right and left hand as we progress. If you don't stop these bugs in time it will be very difficult to get rid of them later. 9. Learn the 3 scale of the beginner When you've been playing basic 6-string notes for a while with some songs in the first frets, it's time for you to learn some guitar scales. Here are these 3 that are the most basic and necessary. 10. Learning to play basic rhythms and chords This stage of your learning is very important. Here we begin to play rhythms with the main chords. I recommend following this order: IMPORTANT (please read): At this stage you will face some problems. But don't worry! Here we solve them! 11. Having a practice routine, even if it is very short Once we know how to click and know some basic chords, it is important to have a plan. In other words, practice a routine, even if it is very short. Here's a short one: a free course to play 5 minutes a day to get agility and agility. 12. Warm up before the game When you play the guitar, there will be chords, notes, stretch marks, changes that will cost us more than others, and therefore we may feel discomfort. In order not to get sick, and to improve our technique, I recommend heating up with some mechanical exercises and coordination, this may be the first point in our practice routine. I also recommend you practice with these imitation exercises for beginners. 13. Expand your knowledge of chords When you see that the chords above they have mastered, you can go to post 21 guitar chords to play almost everything and thus learn a few more. 14. Explore new rhythms and new progressions there rhythms for for guitar, except those already mentioned at the point of the main chords. These rhythms can be used with some new progressions that will help us continue to improve. It is important not to stop and learn new things while the aforementioned has been assimilated. 15. Learn to play guitar with your favorite songs New progressions can be found in many songs, so at the moment you can look for songs. Look for the songs you really like and see if you can play them. You can start with 40 simple songs to play Spanish guitar or acoustics. 16. Learn to play arpeggio models here on the Internet we have several tutorials that relate to the use of arpeggios. I recommend starting with these 3 in this order and then move on to the following paragraph: 1. 8 easy arpeggios for Beginner 2. 10 finger-picking exercises for beginners. 3. How to recognize fingerstyle (super guide) 17. How to play guitar with other styles After a while you can decide which style to follow. Here are a few options: 1.
